EXPERIENCE

- 2006- Unlimited full-time faculty at Central Lakes College, Brainerd, MN, teaching natural resource courses in soil science, ecosystem management, wetland ecology, wildlife management, mammalogy and ornithology, animal behavior, parks and interpretation, and natural resource law enforcement. Further duties include Natural Resource Program Head and student internship coordinator (from Summer 2012), advising and acting as faculty advisor for the Natural Resources Club, advising undergraduate students in NR and wildlife, securing funding and acting as graduate advisor for graduate wildlife research (as adjunct faculty at MSU-Mankato, Bemidji State University); adjunct faculty (2002-2009) at College of St. Scholastica, Brainerd, MN, teaching upper-level wildlife biology courses.
- 2004-06 Adjunct faculty at Central Lakes College, Brainerd, MN, teaching natural resources (courses in soil science, ecosystem management, and field techniques), advising and acting as club advisor for the Natural Resources Club; adjunct faculty at College of St. Scholastica, Brainerd and St. Cloud, MN, teaching wildlife biology.
- 2002-06 Substitute teacher at Pillager High School (Grades K-12 and Special Education), Pillager, MN and Brainerd High School (Grades 10-12 and Special Education), Brainerd, MN. Consultant to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (MN DNR), Division of Ecological Services, Bemidji, MN, to develop and produce Wildlife Management Area narratives for inclusion on the MN DNR website (October 2002-June 2003).
- 1999-02 Assistant professor of wildlife ecology, Dept. of Biological Sciences, St. Cloud State University, St. Cloud, MN. Teaching upper level undergraduate courses in wildlife management, wildlife populations, mammalogy, and ornithology. Other responsibilities included advising undergraduate and graduate students in wildlife ecology, supervising students in independent study in wildlife biology, and acting as faculty advisor for various university-sponsored student organizations including Dance Marathon, Acacia Fraternity, and the SCSU Chapter of The Wildlife Society. Funding was secured and graduate research was initiated on winter ecology of wild turkeys Meleagris gallopavo in central MN, population ecology of river otter Lutra canadensis at the Sherburne National Wildlife Refuge, MN, and a study of invasive plant species at Camp Ripley and Arden Hills Army Training Facility, MN.
- 1988-99 Wildlife research assistant, Grimsö Wildlife Research Station, Riddarhyttan, Sweden. Assisting on all aspects of the moose research project, including radio-tracking, browse collection and surveys, collection of fresh material from harvested moose and roe deer Capreolus capreolus, data recording, and captive rearing/feeding of moose calves and roe deer fawns. I have gained extensive laboratory experience, including analysis of plant nutrient content using Micro-Kjeldahl methods and atomic absorption spectrophotometry, and determined digestibility of forage species using in vitro methodology.

I have censused hazel grouse Bonasa bonasia, live-trapped beaver Castor fiber for implanting of radio transmitters, assisted in capturing roe deer and moose for radio-collaring, and worked with a Geographical Information System (GIS). My travels to and participation in various professional meetings and conferences have taken me across Europe, the former Soviet Union and Baltic States, as well as North America (for more details see below under Professional Activities). Further, I have traveled to Austria, China, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Israel, Nepal and Thailand on ecology field trips, and also performed various types of fieldwork in Alaska, Finland, Norway and Russia.

I have gained considerable teaching experience by giving numerous lectures, in both English and Swedish, to wildlife and forestry researchers, graduate and undergraduate students, as well as to hunters' and special interest groups. During the summer of 1995 I acted as the primary advisor for Erik Thorson, an undergraduate in the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife at the University of Minnesota. This cooperation led to a scientific paper (see Faber & Thorson under Publications) which was included in my Ph.D. thesis. Other activities have included making English language improvements on many scientific manuscripts and reports from colleagues across Fennoscandia, China and Russia. Further, from 1996-98 I was an instructor for the Swedish Hunter's Proficiency Test (Jägarexamen) at Grimsö Wildlife Research Station.

1987

Wildlife research assistant, Grimsö Wildlife Research Station, Riddarhyttan, Sweden. Assisted on the moose project dealing specifically with salt stone utilization by moose, roe deer, and hares. Conducted my own field study on moose foraging on aquatic plants. Assisted in initiating a hazel grouse study, by capturing birds for radio-collaring and doing vegetation analyses of hazel grouse habitat.

1985-86

Barman at Henry J. Beans Bar & Grill, London, England. I lived and worked in London from Dec. 1985-June 1986 on the British Universities North America Club (BUNAC) college work-exchange program.

Dear sir/madam,

22 November 2021

Attached please find an application for re-appointment as a public member to the Legislative-Citizen Commission on MN Resources for your perusal. It would be an honor and privilege to continue to serve on this committee for the benefit of the people and natural resources of Minnesota. I have been active in Minnesota natural resources since I was a young boy, having hunted and fished since I can remember. Professionally, I have been in the wildlife field since 1979, when I began my undergraduate studies in wildlife management at St. Cloud State University. Presently, in addition to my duties as a college instructor of wildlife and natural resources at Central Lakes College in Brainerd, I am actively involved in the following conservation organizations:

Life Member, Minnesota Chapter of The Wildlife Society
Life Member, MN Ornithologists' Union
Board member, Minnesota Sharp-tailed Grouse Society
Board member, Minnesota Prairie Chicken Society
Delegate, Minnesota Conservation Federation
Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership
National Wildlife Federation

I have a strong desire to continue to conserve and manage all of Minnesota's natural resources, and would consider it a great experience to continue serving on the Legislative-Citizen Commission on MN Resources. The 9 years I have already served have been some of the most rewarding conservation-related activities I have been involved with in my 40 plus years "in this business", so I would deeply appreciate the opportunity to continue to serve the people AND the resources of Minnesota. Thanks in advance for your consideration in this matter.

In conservation,

William E. Faber, Ph.D.
Natural Resources Program Lead and Instructor
Central Lakes College, Brainerd, MN
