BOB JACOBSON

Skills Summary

My career has focused on leadership for a variety of organizations including law enforcement, fire service, training, child welfare, professional associations, and community organizations. Those efforts in concert with talented staff committed to serve have resulted in safer communities, highly effective community engagement strategies, positive results, transparent communications, and increased trust. My approach is to work with humility and collaboration while striving for results.

Education and Certifications

Organizational Leadership, Bachelor of Arts, Bethel University

This course of study included a focus on "servant leadership" in private and public institutions and has served me well in my career in public service.

Mini MBA for Government Managers, University of St. Thomas

This certificate program focused on building leadership skills for those serving in governmental management positions.

Senior Management Institute for Police, Police Executive Research Forum (PERF)

This certificate program is for senior police executives and is an intensive course of study designed to foster nationwide relationships with other leaders. The focus is on training based on the latest management concepts and practices and addressing the most challenging issues of the day.

Experience

MN Department of Human Services

Interim Deputy Assistant Commissioner August 2022 to present

My role includes oversight of the Child Safety and Permanency Division within Children and Family Services. My work prioritized the submission of the Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Five Year Prevention Plan to the US Department of Health and Human Services, Administration of Children and Families (ACF). I am presently working with staff on implementation of the FFPSA Five Year Prevention Plan, working on child welfare issues and reviewing organizational effectiveness.

City of Stillwater

Interim Chief of Police October 2020 to January 2021

I served as the Chief of Police and Emergency Management Director as the City initiated and concluded a search for a permanent police chief. I assisted in sustaining operations and leadership during a time of significant transition during the pandemic. Hiring, promotions, staff development, and community engagement were priorities during my interim duties.

MN Department of Human Services

Interim Inspector General August 2019 to January 2020

As the Interim Inspector General, I worked with the Office of Continuous Improvement (OCI) and Deputy Commissioner Chuck Johnson to improve administrative fraud investigations related to the Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP) while under significant public scrutiny and an ongoing investigation of leadership. The work included engaging in communication with legislators both Democrat and Republican to regain trust and faith in our investigative work.

MN Chiefs of Police Association (MCPA)

Director of Professional Development July 2016 to January 2019

As the Director of Professional Development, I was responsible for planning and implementing all training for the MCPA including Chief Law Enforcement training, Leadership Training, annual Executive Training Institute (ETI) conferences and helped to implement regional training for wellness and other timely topics. I also assisted in developing and implementing a Peer Support Program for law enforcement and trained more than two hundred police executives.

City of New Brighton

Director of Public Safety

October 1983 to July 2016

I began my career as a police officer in 1983 and served as a Patrol Officer, Detective, Lieutenant, Captain, Police Chief and ultimately appointed Director of Public Safety in March of 2000. As Director I oversaw a re-organization of police and fire services into one unified Department of Public Safety. The Department consistently received high levels of support from the community and earned several awards to include two International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) Community Policing Awards and several top 5 finishes for National Night Out Activities that included numerous 1st place recognitions. The city also experienced historically low levels of crime.

Awards and Acknowledgements

Richard Schaller Award

MN Chiefs of Police Association

Received the Richard Schaller Award for leadership and contributions to the State of MN in law enforcement. I also have received two "Presidents Awards" for leadership and support of initiatives for the Association. I have served as the presenter for statewide awards for this Association since 2012 and continue in that role today.

MN Chiefs of Police Association

I was a member of the Board of Directors for the MN Chiefs of Police Association from 2003 to 2012 and served as President in 2010 - 2011. I remain a Life Member of the Association.

Association of MN Emergency Managers

I was a member of the Board of Directors for the Association of MN Emergency Managers from 2001 to 2009 and served as the Association's President in 2003 - 2004. I remain a Life Member of the Association.

Police Officer of the Year Honorable Mention
Police Association

MN Chiefs of

I was awarded the Police Officer of the Year Honorable Mention in 1986. This was awarded for response to the "Mounds View Pipeline Explosion" that occurred on July 8, 1986, and resulted in the deaths of a mother and her daughter. This incident directly led to the creation of the MN Office of Pipeline Safety within the MN Department of Public Safety.
