PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Creative strategist, dynamic labor leader and coalition-builder, and progressive thought leader who creates and wins high-profile campaigns and shifts public narrative. Determined builder and leader of high-functioning, multi-racial, innovative teams that get results for people. Dedicated collaborator who rallies colleagues around clear vision and strategy for victory, and keeps teams united and focused while navigating roadblocks. Exceptional public communicator, sought-after crisis-communications expert, and talented public storyteller.

SELECT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Doubled membership of largely immigrant property-services union. Negotiated groundbreaking contracts and built union that punches far above its weight.
- Won victories for working people as a leader of Minnesotans for a Fair Economy, a labor-community collective-impact table recognized as a national model for fighting corporate power and reframing political narrative through innovative cross-sector organizing.
- Led coalitions that passed first $15 minimum-wage and Earned Sick and Safe Time ordinances in Minnesota and defeated constitutional amendments to ban same-sex marriage and require photo ID for voting.
- Contributed as top political and communications strategist to many progressive electoral wins, significantly increasing the number, profile, and influence of people of color and women in elected office in Minnesota.
- Developed into progressive thought leader in Minnesota and nationally who has disrupted conventional thinking and shifted public narrative through publications, media appearances, podcasting, and social-media presence.
- As an accomplished stage performer, introduced storytelling and narrative to union and social-justice activism as a strategy of resistance, and brought focus on social justice to Minnesota spoken-word and theater scene.

MEDIA EXPERIENCE

- Creator and co-host of “Wrong About Everything,” a fun, irreverent, and bipartisan look at Minnesota and national politics. The show, which brings together two progressives and two conservatives each week, is unique in a political landscape where news and—especially, humor— occur in social silos, has become the go-to podcast for political junkies in Minnesota since we began recording in 2014.
- Frequent guest on local radio and television talk shows, including Twin Cities Public Television’s weekly live public-affairs show “Almanac” as a regular on their political panel.
- Frequent guest on Minnesota Public Radio’s “Friday Roundtable” and “All Things Considered,” addressing topics as varied as immigration policy, electoral politics, popular culture, as well as the inaugural guest of “The Thread Book Club,” for a one on one hourlong discussion with author Matthew B. Crawford
- Blog at “Thug in Pastels,” where pieces I published on #pointergate went viral and helped define a Minneapolis “scandal” that went national.
