Tom Bottern
Secretary of the Senate

Dear Secretary Bottern,

When Senator Kari Dziedzic nominated me and the members of the Minnesota State Senate elected me as chaplain, I felt deeply honored to serve in this role. Over the past two years, it has been a significant highlight of my public ministry to provide devotional guidance and spiritual leadership to this impressive group of public servants. I have been privileged to witness the thoughtful and productive deliberations and decision-making by those dedicated to serving the people and promoting the common good.

Last week, I announced my decision to launch my campaign for Mayor of Minneapolis next year. After much prayer and careful consideration, I have chosen to deepen my commitment to public service by running for public office. My focus will be on the issues of dignity, opportunity, and safety for the people of our great city. Given this commitment to political campaigning, I do not want the Office of Chaplain to face any questions regarding partisan activity, nor do I want my political campaign to distract the Senate. Therefore, I am resigning from my position as Chaplain of the Minnesota State Senate effectively immediately.

Thank you. I am truly grateful for the opportunity to work alongside the members and staff of the Minnesota State Senate.

Sincerely,
DeWayne L. Davis
